New guidance available to help people with disabilities to access GP online services

If you have a disability and would like help using GP online services we now have practice guides to help you better understand about GP online services and how you can use them.

Did you know GP online services can help those with disabilities to:

- independently book appointments
- order repeat prescriptions
- view their GP record.

Our staff can also help patients that are deafblind, have hearing loss, sight loss, autism spectrum disorders and/or learning disability.

You can download an easy read guide from:

<https://www.england.nhs.uk/ourwork/pe/patient-online/support/> or by using this email to order a guide england.patient-online@nhs.net

or by asking your GP reception staff for a copy.

NHS England, Action on Hearing Loss, Change, The National Autistic Society, RNIB and Sense, have worked together to develop the guides.
